JAMES TENNIER; LOIS TENNIER,

Plaintiffs,

v.

WELLS FARGO BANK, N.A.; et al.,

Defendants.

3:14-cv-0035-LRH-VPC

ORDER

Before the court is defendant Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.'s ("Wells Fargo") motion to dismiss. Doc. #3.<sup>1</sup> Plaintiffs James and Lois Tennier ("the Tenniers") filed an opposition (Doc. #6) to which Wells Fargo replied (Doc. #8).

Also before the court is the Tenniers' motion for a preliminary injunction. Doc. #11. Defendant Wells Fargo filed an opposition (Doc. #13) to which the Tenniers replied (Doc. #15).

I. Facts and Background

In December 2007, the Tenniers refinanced their existing home loan and entered into an Option Adjustable Rate Mortgage ("ARM") agreement with World Savings Bank, FSB ("WSB") as part of WSB's 'Pick-a-Payment' loan program. Eventually, the Tenniers defaulted on the refinanced loan and Wells Fargo, WSB's successor-in-interest, recorded a notice of default on the property.

1 Subsequently, on December 6, 2013, the Tenniers filed a complaint against defendants in 2 state court. Doc. #1, Exhibit 1. The Tenniers then filed an amended complaint on December 26,
3 2013 (Doc. #1, Exhibit 2), and a second amended complaint on January 9, 2014 (Doc. #1, 4 Exhibit 6). The second amended complaint alleges six causes of action against defendants:
5 (1) fraudulent omissions; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied covenants of good faith 6 and fair dealing; (4) unjust enrichment; (5) deceptive trade practice against elderly person; and 7 (6) deceptive trade practice against a person with a disability. Id.

8 On January 15, 2014, Wells Fargo removed the complaint to federal court on the basis of 9 diversity jurisdiction. Doc. #1. Thereafter, Wells Fargo filed the present motion to dismiss.
10 Doc. #3.

11 II. Motion to Dismiss

12 A. Legal Standard

13 Wells Fargo seeks dismissal pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) for failure
14 to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. To survive a motion to dismiss for failure to state 15 a claim, a complaint must satisfy the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) notice pleading 16 standard. See Mendiondo v. Centinela Hosp. Med. Ctr., 521 F.3d 1097, 1103 (9th Cir. 2008). That 17 is, a complaint must contain “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is 18 entitled to relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). The Rule 8(a)(2) pleading standard does not require 19 detailed factual allegations; however, a pleading that offers “‘labels and conclusions’ or ‘a 20 formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action’” will not suffice. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.
21 Ct. 1937, 1949 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

22 Furthermore, Rule 8(a)(2) requires a complaint to “contain sufficient factual matter, 23 accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Id. at 1949 (quoting 24 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). A claim has facial plausibility when the pleaded factual content allows 25 the court to draw the reasonable inference, based on the court’s judicial experience and common 26 sense, that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged. See id. at 1949-50. “The plausibility

1 standard is not akin to a probability requirement, but it asks for more than a sheer possibility that a
 2 defendant has acted unlawfully. Where a complaint pleads facts that are merely consistent with a 3 defendant's liability, it stops short of the line between possibility and plausibility of entitlement to 4 relief." Id. at 1949 (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).

5 In reviewing a motion to dismiss, the court accepts the facts alleged in the complaint as 6 true. Id. However, "bare assertions . . . amount[ing] to nothing more than a formulaic recitation of 7 the elements of a . . . claim . . . are not entitled to an assumption of truth." Moss v. U.S. Secret
 8 Serv., 572 F.3d 962, 969 (9th Cir. 2009) (quoting Iqbal, 129 S. Ct. at 1951) (brackets in original)
 9 (internal quotation marks omitted). The court discounts these allegations because "they do nothing 10 more than state a legal conclusion—even if that conclusion is cast in the form of a factual 11 allegation." Id. (citing Iqbal, 129 S. Ct. at 1951.) "In sum, for a complaint to survive a motion to 12 dismiss, the non-conclusory 'factual content,' and reasonable inferences from that content, must be 13 plausibly suggestive of a claim entitling the plaintiff to relief." Id.

14 B. 'Pick-a-Payment' Settlement Res Judicata

15 The doctrine of res judicata precludes a party from re-litigating issues in one court that have 16 already been fully litigated on the merits in another court. See Five Star Capital Corp. v. Ruby, 194
 17 P.3d 709, 713 (Nev. 2008). Further, "under elementary principles of prior adjudication a judgment 18 in a properly entertained class action is binding on class members in any subsequent litigation."
 19 Cooper v. Federal Reserve Bank, 467 U.S. 867, 874 (1984).

20 In the present motion, Wells Fargo contends that the underlying claims of the instant action 21 were the subject of a class action covering the same type of loan agreement entered into by the 22 Tenniers. That litigation, In Re Wachovia Corporation 'Pick-a-Payment' Mortgage Marketing and 23 Sales Practices Litigation, case no. 5:09-md-02015-JF, 2011 WL 1877630 (N.D. Cal. 2011), 24 defined class members as anyone who obtained 'Pick-a-Payment' mortgage loans between

1 August 1, 2003, and December 31, 2008.<sup>2</sup> See Doc. #3, Exhibit A. That class action culminated in 2 an approved claims settlement.<sup>3</sup> Because the Tenniers are members of the settled In Re Wachovia
3 class action, Wells Fargo argues that the present action should be dismissed with prejudice under 4 the doctrine of res judicata.

5 However, the Tenniers allege that they opted out of the settlement by sending an appropriate 6 opt-out letter before the final cut off date. See Doc. #6. As such, for the purpose of this motion, the 7 court finds that the Tenniers have sufficiently alleged that they are excluded from enforcement of 8 the settlement. See Doc. #6, Exhibit 1 (“Any Person who timely and properly submits a Request for 9 Exclusion shall not (1) be bound by any orders or Judgment entered in the Lawsuit nor by the 10 Release herein contained . . .”). Therefore, the court shall deny Wells Fargo’s motion as to this 11 issue.

12 C. Statute of Limitations

13 Wells Fargo argues in the alternative, that the Tenniers’ fraud based claims (the first, fifth, 14 and sixth causes of action) are barred by the applicable statute of limitations. Generally, claims 15 based in fraud are subject to a three year statute of limitations. NRS § 11.190(3). Wells Fargo 16 argues that the Tenniers’ fraud claims accrued at the time the refinance documents were signed in 17 December 2007, because those claims are based on WSB’s failure to disclose certain information in 18 the loan documents. Thus, Wells Fargo argues that the statute of limitations exhausted in 19 December 2010; three years before the filing of the initial complaint.

20 However, under Nevada law, fraud based claims “accrue upon the discovery by the 21 aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud.” NRS 11.190(3)(d). In their complaint, the 22 Tenniers allege that they did not discover WSB’s fraud, and thus the statute of limitations did not 23

24 <sup>2</sup> It is undisputed that the Tenniers obtained a ‘Pick-a-Payment’ mortgage loan during the relevant class 25 period.

26 <sup>3</sup> A copy of the order granting final approval of the class action settlement is attached as Exhibit 1 to Wells Fargo’s motion to dismiss. Doc. #3, Exhibit 1.

1 begin to run, until they received notice of the In re Wachovia class action lawsuit in 2011.

2 Therefore, based on the allegations in the complaint, the court finds that the Tenniers' first, fifth,
3 and sixth causes of action are not barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

4 D. Unjust Enrichment

5 To set forth a claim for unjust enrichment, a plaintiff must allege that a defendant unjustly 6 retained money or property of another against fundamental principles of equity. See Asphalt Prods.
7 Corp. v. All Star Ready Mix, 898 P.2d 699, 700 (Nev. 1995). However, an action for unjust 8 enrichment cannot stand when there is an express written contract which guides the activities of the 9 parties. LeasePartners Corp. v. Robert L. Brooks Trust Dated Nov. 12, 1975, 942 P.2d 182, 187
10 (Nev. 1997).

11 Here, there was a written contract between the parties, namely, the refinance documents and 12 mortgage note. These documents guided the interactions, obligations, and rights of the parties. As 13 such, the Tenniers cannot make a claim in equity for actions that are guided by a contract they are a 14 party to. See LeasePartners Corp., 942 P.2d at 187-88. Further, the Tenniers concede in their 15 opposition that their claim should be dismissed. Accordingly, the court shall grant Wells Fargo's 16 motion and dismiss the claim for unjust enrichment.

17 III. Motion for Preliminary Injunction

18 A preliminary injunction is an "extraordinary remedy that may only be awarded upon a clear 19 showing that the plaintiff is entitled to such relief." Id. (citing Mazurek v. Armstrong, 520 U.S. 968, 20 972 (1997) (per curiam)). A court may only grant a preliminary injunction upon a showing that:
21 (1) the petitioner is likely to succeed on the merits of his complaint; (2) irreparable harm will result 22 in the absence of an injunction; (3) the balance of equities favors an injunction; and (4) an 23 injunction is in the public's interest. Winters v. Natural Res. Def. Council, Inc., 129 S. Ct. 365, 376 24 (2008) (citations omitted); Alliance for Wild Rockies v. Cottrell, 622 F.3d 1045, 1050 (9th Cir.
25 2010).

26 ///

1 In their motion, the Tenniers claim that right after this action was removed to federal court, 2 the parties completed their fifth mortgage mediation without resolution. As a result of the fifth
3 mediation's conclusion, the mediator issued a certificate on April 14, 2014, allowing Wells Fargo
4 to file another notice of default and seek foreclosure of the underlying property if it chooses. The 5 Tenniers contend that absent an injunction, "Wells Fargo may be able to proceed with foreclosure 6 proceedings." Doc. #11, p.8. (emphasis added).

7 The court has reviewed the documents and pleadings on file in this matter and finds that the 8 Tenniers' motion for a preliminary injunction is without merit because there is no pending 9 imminent or irreparable harm. Wells Fargo has not indicated that it will take any action against the 10 property while this action is pending and no new notice of default has been filed in response to the 11 completion of the fifth mediation. The court cannot issue an injunction merely on the possibility 12 that future harm "may" occur at some unknown time. Accordingly, the court shall deny the motion 13 for a preliminary injunction without prejudice.

15 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that defendant's motion to dismiss (Doc. #3) is DENIED 16 in-part and GRANTED in-part. Plaintiffs' fourth cause of action for unjust enrichment is 17 DISMISSED.

18 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction (Doc. #11)
19 is DENIED without prejudice.

20 IT IS SO ORDERED.

21 DATED this 6th day of May, 2014.
